BATTLE OF THE BAKEWELLS

Let's settle it once and for all: The Pudding, with it's buttery, Puff Pastry, Jam and soft Almond Custard, is the original. The Tart, a 20th Century invention, features sweet Shortcrust, Jam and Frangipane and is traditionally topped with Fondant and half a Glacé Cherry. Not sure which you'd prefer? Only one way to find out!

Served with choice of Custard or Fresh Cream

THE OLD ORIGINAL BAKEWELL PUDDING SHOP

IN THE BEGINNING THERE WAS A PUDDING...THAT WAS SUPPOSED TO BE A TART!

It all started with a happy accident, when a housekeeper at an inn in Bakewell's Rutland Square misread a recipe for a Strawberry Jam Tart, spreading the Egg and Almond mixture over the Jam instead of mixing it into the Pastry. The resulting dessert, with its rich Almondy, Custard-like filling, quickly became a local favourite. It was such a hit, in fact, that in 1860, the local tallow chandler's wife Mrs Wilson secured the original recipe and began selling it from her 17th-century cottage - the very building is now occupied by the Old Original Bakewell Pudding Shop. The rest is sweet, sweet history.
